"An addictive time-waster perfect for downtime at the office or the daily commute"

Techly.com

"It's a twitchy arcade game that's something of a hybrid between the steering mechanic of slingshot racer and those rotating planet platformer games that are so darn popular."

Toucharcade.com

"SMG has got the formula precisely right. It's a fast, eye-catching game that's mechanically difficult, but the controls are simple and intuitive, so you never feel cheated, only beaten by your inability."

ABC.net.au

"An addictive and challenging yet deceptively simple arcade game"

Jay is Games

"One More Line is most entertaining single button game that I've encountered."

It's a bad and boring game even for the Play Store. Don't waste your time, even in an offert.

1 / 10. Interesting concept, but lag is horrendous and makes enjoyable gameplay impossible.. This is a great buy when it is on sale for $1. I wouldnt pay much more for this game.. The concept is fun - but the game gets ruined by unresponsive controls (that a big one in a 1-button game..) and weird / glitched lock-ons.. Reling on your luck too much, not on your skill.

Usually I don't blame a game of luck, but this game's ramdom-generated level is just hideous.

I recommand you to play Super Hexagon - that is simply better on every aspect.. it's free on your phone. Should be more like a buck, but it's fun. This game rocks so fun on PC I love all the hats, trials, themes, etc. The Devs are super awesome nice people as well! its great to support them. On mobil my score is 673, Pc is 400 so far!! One more line with cocaine

. this game will make you flip your desk.....

Best gaem evr 2017. Fantastic idea!
Perfect Sound!
Challenging!
Fun!

First it was hard for me to reach a distance of 50...!
Then i found the tutorial.
You want to know where it is?
Try some of the easy achievements, a better practice does not exist.

This is the most simple and quite difficult "one button" game that I can recommend with ease to fans of leaderboard competition, good assessment of assets and ***** PCs.

719.623 / 1.000.000. One More Line is an amazing mobile game that is now available on Steam with exclusive stuff like Multiplayer and customising your experience with hats etc.

It's cheap and you should challenge your friends to get the best high score between yourselves or try the challenging achievements. I don't see myself ever getting over 100.... This is a fairly fun game which would normally get my positive recommendation if it wasn't for some game breaking bug/issues

It's a simple one-button game, an endless runner. where you keep moving forwards, try to avoid obstacles and stay in the main path by clinging on to these obstacles, rotating around them until you release the button which will propel you towards the desired direction.

The graphics are simplistic and charming with a few choices for the main "blob", music is fitting if not a little repetitive after a while and the whole production/programming is spot on, but for the next couple of issues..

The two issues that make the game unplayable in the later levels (read achievements) are:

a. Sometimes the hold on the obstacle isn't released the moment you let the button go so you cannot predict the exact direction. Similarly when you try to grab a node, sometimes it won't react instantly and in this game you need fast reflexes and very responsive control of your "line".

b. (This is the most important problem) Sometimes the algorithm will choose the target that is coming straight at you to cling on to so it's bye-bye with a head on collision.

And that's it for me.. just a few too many head on collisions and game over for this one..

PS. I would change my thumbie if that second issue is fixed but until then I'm not touching this title again. Just too frustrating and not fun anymore... Sexy♥♥♥♥♥game, addicting asf ngl also a decent time waster. Easy to earn badges and that cheers me the ♥♥♥♥ up every time I die knowing that I got badges in such a short span.. Nice game with fun and addictive gameplay. Seems to run way too sluggish for what it is though.. This game is super fun and addictive! I grabbed it in a bundle earlier today and can't stop playing it! The music and artwork is perfect for the game, it runs super smooth, and has a variety of hats and trails to unlock! The price even at full price is a steal and I've already gotten one friend hooked to the game. Looking to spread it to other friends!. I personally did not like this game its glitchy, sometimes when I pressed the spacebar it didnt respond and it got me so FREAKING mad I thought this was going to be a good game, but it turns out I wasted my money.

- 4/10
